

Post-Great Recession Economic Growth in Oregon, USA

From the end of the last Great Recession in 2010 through 2018, all but 3 of Oregon's 36 counties experienced growth in gross county product (GCP) on a per-capita basis. Gilliam County grew the fastest, from $88K per person in 2010, to $151K per person in 2018. In contrast, Sherman County declined, from $371K per person in 2010, to $321K per person in 2018. Both are very rural counties.
